

Maria Loizidou obtained her BSc, MSc, PhD in chemical engineering from the University of London focusing on the field of environmental protection. She followed an academic career being Professor at the School of Chemical Engineering the National Technical University of Athens and Head of Unit of Environmental Science & Technology.

Her research focuses on the management of solid waste, wastewater in a circular way as well as actions for climate change.

Prof. Loizidou is the Head of WtERT-Greece (Waste to Energy Research and Technology) and the chair person of the annual international conference on waste management.