

'Dr. Preeti Jain is Head, Net Zero Transition Programs at IATA (International Air Transport Association), a leading industry body aimed to shape the future growth for a safe and sustainable air transport industry. Dr. Jain comes with more than 2 decades of experience with leading energy companies across the world focused on energy transition and biofuels. Her previous roles across the industry spectrum included leadership positions in R&D, advocacy, M&A strategy and business development in the realms of refining, petrochemicals, and biofuels industry. A Fulbright alumna by USDOE, she is an ardent believer of enhancing women equity in energy sector.'